Dear Brother McMikle,

I am pleased to learn of your candidacy for Senior Grand Vice Polemarch. I have reviewed your credible body of work and after speaking with you, find your vision for the Fraternity is far reaching and commendable. I offer you my support, time, and advice.

Only a few Kappa men have reached the height of Senior Grand Vice Polemarch. During our 110 year history, we have searched for the best and brightest to lead the Fraternity. Should you be elected, it is sterling character and uncommon courage that should guide you to shape the history and culture of the Fraternity. Think for a moment about our Creed and the sacred vow you took to become a member of the Fraternity. Let that be your guiding light.

There exists no other organization like Kappa. The road to elected office will be challenging. Offering yourself for service of this kind does not come around often. There will be sacrifices that must be made. However, you have set your life on a course that is impressive to date and your family's support, I truly admire. And while you travel to meet our membership, get to know our Senior Kappas and collegiate brothers, without fail, you will find that it is in working with them, and serving others more than you serve yourself, that the deepest and most enduring bonds are cemented.

I encourage you to take advantage of the opportunities presented to actively engage in the Fraternity's strategic plan. You are a brave leader among equals. You are a leader among leaders, no less than any other, and the Fraternity eagerly awaits your future contributions. We all await the new laurels to the legacy of the Fraternity you will bring.

Remember these two words, One Kappa!

Yours in the Bond,

Dwayne M. Murray, Esq.
